OLD NEWSPAPERS, suitable for wrapping paper, in packages of fifty, for sale at this office. tf.

It should have been W. O. Sheppard, instead of W. O. Skipper, as stated by us yesterday, who was elected Foreman of the Willard Fire Company.

WE should not hesitate to recommend to any friend of ours, Parsons' Purgative Pills; they are scientifically prepared, and are adapted to all the purposes of a good purgative medicine.

Decidedly the best remedy that has ever been discovered for the rheumatism, swollen, or stiff joints, flesh wounds, sprains, bruises, cuts, and burns, is Johnsons' Anodyne Liniment. We use it, and always recommend it to our friends. apr 23—d6t-w1t

BURGLARY.—A burglar, supposed to be a white man, entered the residence of Capt. Walter Furlong, on Church, between Second and Third streets, about 4 o'clock. Sunday morning, and succeeded in abstracting $1 20 in currency, from a vest pocket, before any of the occupants of the sleeping room were aware of the presence of a burglar. However. Mrs. Furlong awoke, and calling to her husband, who awoke, just in time to catch a glimpse of the scoundrel, who was making rapid strides up the street.

NEEDY.—There are two white ladies living on Bladen between Eighth and Ninth streets, who are in very indigent circumstances, and actually suffering for the necessaries of life. One of them is an invalid and cannot assist her sister who has to work both day and night, to procure means to sustain herself and suffering sister.

The Sisters of Mercy as soon as they discovered it, promptly went to their aid and assistance, and bestowed upon them such nourishments as they required. In this connection we would state that a white man who is very feeble, and scarcely able to walk, stopped at their hut a day or two ago, beseeching them to take him in and administer to him, and the ladies knowing what it was to suffer cold and hunger, kindly opened their sympathetic hearts and admitted him within their dwelling, where he now lies, also in a very bad state of health, with no means of support.

Yet after all this has been told, we have still something else to communicate. It is this, some devil, or one of the devil's imps, made an attempt on Sunday night last to enter their dwelling for the purpose of robbery, but fortunately the sick man being aroused by the noise, coughed, which caused the rascal to drop the window sash and take to his heels.

Surely this is a subject that requires deep and earnest perusal, likewise prompt action upon the part of our citizens, and we trust that this appeal, coming as it does through one of their neighbors, will be heard, and attended to at once.

BREEZY and dusty to-day.

SUPERIOR Court has adjourned until 10 o'clock to-morrow morning.

THE "Hose Rrigade" did good service to-day, in laying the dust.

EMERGENT communication of St. John's Lodge, this evening, at 7½ o'clock.

Mr. J. N. CEILEY, was drowned in Lumber river, about four miles from Fair Bluff, on Sunday last.

THE members of the Produce Exchange held a meeting this morning, to take into consideration the use of petroleum barrels for spirits.

ROBERT MARTIN requests us to state that the report of his being up before the Mayor, on yesterday, for disorderly conduct, is a mistake.

THE steamers Emma Dunn and James T. Easton, in tow of the steam dredge, arrived in safety at Beaufort on Sunday night last.

ONE of the machines, in running to the fire last night, broke two of the flag stones at the crossing, northeast corner of Second and Princess streets. We believe that there is an ordinance prohibiting the running on the pavements in case of a fire.

PALACE OF INDUSTRY.—The entertainment to be given at the Opera House to-morrow night bids fair to be the most magnificent of the kind that has ever taken place in our city. By 7 o'clock yesterday, nearly all of the choice seats had been secured. We do trust that a rousing house will greet them.

REV. MR. MILBURN.—At a collection taken up at Front Street M. E. Church, on Sunday night last, for the benefit of this eloquent divine, the sum of sixty-one dollars and fifteen cts. was realized. Mr. Milburn will lecture in Raleigh this week, and we recommend him as one of the best orators in our country. We trust that he will again visit our city.

ELECTED.—We notice the names of Mayor W. P. Canaday, Maj. J. H. Engelhard, of the Journal, and W. H. Bernard, Esq., of the Star, among the Special Agents for the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals in this State. Oh ye hard hearted, beware how ye twist the narrative end of the donkey in the future!

MAGISTRATE'S COURT.—Before Justice Gardner to-day:

Ellen Green vs. James Nixon, case dismissed at complainants cost, and defendant discharged.

State vs. Fanny Simpson, case dismissed at complainants cost.

State vs. Fanny Simpson, not guilty. Case dismissed at complainants cost.

State vs. James Nixon, guilty. Discharged on payment of costs.

Ellen Green vs. Fanny Simpson, defendant discharged, and case dismissed at complainant's cost.

THE MYSTERY SOLVED.—In the Star of the 22d, Bro. Muse tells his readers of a mystery concerning two boxes, one marked to Winnsboro, S. C., and the other to Ridgeway, N. C., and one of them was said to have contained several pairs of shoes. He then goes on to say "there is evidently food for a first class item if we only knew the history of those boxes. Who can eighten us?" Now as we are of an obliging disposition and always ready to confer a favor upon a friend and neighbor, we propose to enlighten Bro. Muse, likewise his readers, relative to this shoe mystery. It is a long story, but we trust our readers will bear it patiently, for, remember that everything must have an end. Well, a friend, who knows being an officer, tells us that the boxes containing shoes were stolen from Union Depot, some weeks ago, and after some days they were discovered in the woods near Hilton, one of the boxes containing several pairs of shoes, which were immediately repacked and forwarded to W. M. Nelson, Winnsboro, S. C.

So this ends the mystery, and our narrative has come to an end. But before closing we would state that one shoe, which exactly corresponded to an odd shoe Mr. Nelson received with the lot, was found in the residence of one Sue Mason, which may add another link to the chain.

Mayor's Court,

His Honor W. P. CANADAY, Mayor, presiding.

Only one case disposed of this morning.

Daniel Williams, for disorderly conduct, fined $10 and costs, or 20 days on the streets.

DR. WRIGHT, the city physician, visited the guard house to-day, to examine the prisoners.

THE FIRE LAST NIGHT.—A fire broke out last last night about 9 o'clock, in a room, in a second story building, on the north side of Market, between Front and Second streets. The fire department were quickly at the scene, but their services were not brought into requisition, as the flames were soon extinguished by parties in that locality, who made free use of buckets of water.

The damage is very slight, not amounting to more than one hundred dollars.

COMPLAINT.—A citizen has requested us to call attention to the FILTHY condition of the gutters on North Water street, particularly is this the case opposite the establishment of Messrs. Willard Bros., where such a stench arises from the piles of trash and mud allowed to accumulate there, that one can hardly pass. There are piles of trash that have been lying on this street for weeks, and which attention has been called to through the POST, and yet it remains. We hope that this complaint will be heeded at once.

THE ODD FELLOWS' ANNIVERSARY.—After the parade, yesterday afternoon, the members of Orion and Cape Fear Lodges, assembled at the Lodge Room at 8 o'clock, when addresses were delivered by Past Grand Masters W. J. Yopp and W. L. Smith, and Past Grand Treasurer R. J. Jones, Past Grand G. M. Altaffer, Rev. Jas. S. Keen, Jr., Chaplain of Cape Fear Lodge, and Warden W. H. Gerken. During the intermission between the addresses, excellent music was discoursed by several ladies and gentlemen, who kindly tendered their services.

At the conclusion of the exercises, about 10 o'clock, the members, with their wives and "sweethearts," adjourned to the Temperance Hall below, and "tripped it to the light fantastic toe, until the we' sma' hours of morn." This closed one of the most pleasant and joyous occaions known in the annals of Odd Fellowship.

We return thanks to the Committee for an invitation to be present on the said occasion.

Lovers' Proverbs.

Love knows hidden paths.
Love makes labor light.
Love makes time pass away, and time makes love pass away.
Love me little, love me long.
Ami mio un peu, mais continue—Love me little, but keep it up.
Love one that does not love you, answer one that does not call you, and you will run a fruitless race.
Love others well, but love thyself the most; give good for good, but not to thine own cost.
Love rules his kingdom without a sword.
Love subdues everything except the felon's heart.
Love teaches asses to dance.
Love, knavery and necessity make men good orators.
Love, thieves and fear make ghosts.
Love, without return, is like a question without an answer.
Love your friend with his faults.
Love your neighbor, but don't pull down the fence.
Lovers' purses are tied with cobwebs.
Lovers' quarrels are love redoubled.
Lovers think others have no eyes.
Lovers' anger is fuel to love.
Love-merchandise is jealousy and broken faith.
Lover-plant must be watered with tears and tended with care.
Loving and singing are not to be forced.
Love and pride stock Bedlam.
Love, being jealous, makes a good-bye look a squint.
Love comes in at the door and goes out at the window.
Love does much, but money does more.
Love is a sweet tyranny, because the lover endureth his torment willingly.
Love is the touchstone of virtue.
Love is the loadstone of love.
Love is without prudence, and anger without counsels.
Sweetheart and honey-bird keep no hours.
Love will creep when it cannot go.

LATEST BY TELEGRAPH.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, April 28.

The following dispatch was received here to-day:

LITTLE ROCK, April 27.

To U. S. GRANT, PRESIDENT:

On the 19th day of this month, as Governor of this State, I telegraphed to you that there was an armed insurrection here against the legal Government of this State and made a requisition upon you for aid to suppress it, and to prevent domestic violence. I have just now been advised by you, but never received the requisition. I now take occasion to say that an armed insurrection exists in this State against the lawfully constituted authority thereof, and as the Legislature cannot meet until the 11th day of May, I call upon you for aid to protect the State against domestic violence.

E. BAXTER,
Governor of Arkansas.

A similar call had previously been received from Brooks, claiming to be Governor, and two attorneys for his relief reached here yesterday to urge a compliance with the call.

Five attorneys despatched by Baxter will soon arrive on a like errand, in his interest.

The question as to who is the actual Governor will be presented to the President for his decision unless some other mode of settlement shall intervene before the matter is formally taken up for Executive consideration.

Since yesterday forenoon not more than fifty depositors of small amounts have applied to the Freedman's Savings Bank for the withdrawal of their funds. In all other respects business is progressing as usual.

The House has appropriated $9,000 to purchase rations for the distressed people suffering from the overflow of the lower Mississippi.

The Judiciary committee has been authorized to take testimony looking to the impeachment of Judge Story, of Arkansas.

In the Senate, Mr. Alcorn presented the memorial of the State Grange of Mississippi in favor of the Fort St. Phillip canal. Referred to the committee on commerce.

Raleigh had a $25 fire last Friday night.

The U. S. District Court is in session in Newbern.

Raleigh jewelers keep watches which are left for repairs 35 years, waiting for the owner to turn up and claim the property.

The Messenger says: "We learn that the store of Frank Whitaker, at Fountain Hill, Greene county, was totally destroyed by fire on the night of the 18th instant. There was an insurance of $800 on the property destroyed.—We did not learn the origin of the fire."

The News says: The Board of City Commissioners yesterday voted to allow the grounds of the State Agricultural Society to be mortgaged for an additional sum of $10,000, in order to allow the managers of the affairs of the Society to take up its floating indebtedness. It is thought this will relieve the Society of every financial embarrassment under which it may be laboring.

The officers of the Society are making every endeavor to have a Fair unsurpassed by any hitherto held in the State, and the indications at present are that they will meet with even greater success than obtained last Fall. The grounds will be in thorough condition, the buildings will be thoroughly completed, and the Society have a Fair Ground costing some $50,000, which will be wholly paid for in five years, and North Carolina can boast of grounds unsurpassed by but few others in the country.

The Stars.

Here is a beautiful thought of Thomas Carlyle: "When I gaze into the stars, they look down upon me with pity from their serene and silent space, like eyes glistening with tears, over the little lot of men. Thousands of generations all as noisy as our own, have been swallowed up by time, and there remains no record of them any more, yet Arctnrus and Orion, Sirius and the Pleiades, are still shining in their courses, clear and young as when the shepherd first noted them from the plain of Shinar! What shadows we are, and what shadows we pursue!"

As a travelling party were riding through Palestine the attention of a certain American was called to the reputed seat of Moses' tomb. "Moses who?" says Jonathan. "Why the great Moses who led the Children of Israel through the desert for forty years." "How far is that?" "Three hundred miles, maybe." Upon which the American remarked: "The Chicago and Northwestern would have taken 'em through, I guess, in eight hours."

Correspondence solicited from our friends in all parts of the State, on topics of general interest. Political news and reports of crops are especially desirable.

The Petersburg Index and Appeal, speaking of the lawlessness of certain portions of the Scuffletown settlement, in Robeson county, asks "if the good people of the good old North State" cannot do something to put a stop to such deeds.

In reply we beg leave to remind our cotemporary of a fact that seems to have escaped its attention, to-wit: that the administration of justice in the section of country in which Scuffletown is situated is now and has been, in the hands of officials who owe their positions to the votes of only the "trooly loil." When Radical Solicitors and Radical Judges administer justice, "the good people of the good old North State" do not hold themselves responsible for the consequences.

Will our esteemed Petersburg cotemporary please make a note of this?—Journal.

We suppose this is one of the opening guns of the summer's campaign. These calumnies are to be resorted to against men whom the people know and in whom they have confidence, for the purpose of furthering the schemes of the gerrymanderers. This is precisely the warfare, which, while we despise it, as a matter of policy, we will gladly see.

The Republican party can furnish no better campaign paper than the above delightful product of some of "the good people of the good old North State." Placed in the hands of every honest man in Robeson county who knows the parties against whom it is written, it will tell vastly in their favor. There is not a decent man in that county who does not know the innuendo contained in it to be false.

The President's Veto.

It may be taken as a fact that the late Executive veto was hailed by a portion of the Democratic press, as an excellent opportunity to abuse President Grant, which was too good to be lost. Accordingly we find that some Southern papers of the opposition, are going for him in styles different according to the intelligence and breeding of the writers—but taking him to task they are, and doubtless glad of having this chance to do so, although his veto was not favorable to the present condition of the South.

Although we regret that the President felt it his duty to interpose his prerogative in the matter of the currency, yet none except those whose eyes are wilfully shut to facts, can find any reason to blame him. A return to specie payments has been the promise for years, of all persons who have taken a position in national politics, and with the exception of the South, is the desideratum of the entire country. We want more money to pay our debts. Debts which were made either before the war or soon afterwards when gold was much higher, and our produce bringing a much better price than now. Could the debts of the Southern communities, contracted under different circumstances than the present but be paid, there would be few to deny that the interests of trade demand a fixed standard of value for our circulating medium.

(Lexington (Ky.) Gazette).

An Innocent Granger.

A farmer—we will call Smith for short—lives in Madison county, and would be known, at least by reputation, and to many of our readers were his right name given. But the incident we now relate, though coming to us in a reliable way, was known to few outside of his neighborhood. Farmer Smith lived in a quiet way, and was supposed to have accumulated something ahead besides having a pretty good farm.—After his second son had been married about a year, he concluded to settle near the old man, if he could rent a place.

Hearing of this, Mr. Thompson—again we withhold the true name—thought there might be a chance to sell a certain place on pretty fair terms.—Mr. Thompson was a money-loaner, and nothing suited him so well as good interest, backed by good security; and he moreover generally considered a pretty shrewd trader. He rode over to see old man Smith, but the farmer said he did not feel able to buy—he might buy on a credit if the price was low enough and the interest was not too high. His son "Jake," he said, would have to pay for the farm himself if the trade was made, but his son was a good farmer, and he thought it would be all right—at least the land would be there, and would be good for what remained unpaid if his son should fail. What seemed to startle the old fellow was twelve per cent. interest that Thompson wanted.

Finally, however, after a great deal of talk, the price was agreed on at twenty thousand dollars, one-fifth cash, and notes at one, two, three and four years, with twelve per cent. interest from date for the remainder. The contract was drawn, and they were about to sign, when the farmer suggested that if she should at any time get any more money than was due on the notes he wanted to be allowed to pay it, and count off the twelve per cent. The proposition seemed reasonable enough to Thompson, and he could not object to its insertion in the contract, and so the document was signed in duplicate. The deed was to be ready, the notes drawn, and the first payment made on the following Saturday.

When the time arrived both were punctually on hand, the first $4,000 was paid and the notes were ready for signature. "Mr. Thompson," said Farmer Smith, "I've been thinking about that interest, and it seemed skerry, so I thought I'd gether in some little money I had out and pay part of it, and"—pulling from his breast pocket a roll of money—"jist count that."

The money was counted, and, with twelve per cent. off, the first note was paid.

When Thompson had pocketed the money again Smith said: "I've got a son livin' in Missouri, Mr. Thompson, and as soon as he heard he was buyin' a farm for Jakey he send me a little money"—pulling a roll from his right side breeches pocket—"and so whatever it is we'll credit it on the next note, if you have no objection." Again the money was counted, and with the twenty-four per cent. off just paid the note to a cent.

"Well, that's luck," resumed the old man; "and now, Mr. Thompson, the old woman has been selling right smart of butter and aigs, and some chickens now and then, when they come 'round the country a buying, and she told me this mornin' that I better take what she had, and maybe it wouldn't come amiss." A roll was produced from the left side breeches pocket, and when counted just paid the note after the thirtysix per cent. was deducted, and Thompson said not a word. Smith seemed to be considering for some minutes, and then, raising his head, said, as though a sudden thought struck him: "You knowed my darter Sal, didn't ye? Leastwise you've seen her. Sal was a fine gal. About five years ago, at hog killin' time, one of my hands tuck sick, and what does Sal do but turn in and help us, and, I tell you she could sling a hog across her shoulder equal to any man on the ground. Well, you know, Sal married year before last, and her husband Hibbell—you know Hibbell—is doin', they tell me, as good a grocery business as any man in Kirksville. Jakey he went over to see Sal and Hibbell the other day, and they was a talkin' about this about this here interest business, and Sal says to Hibbell, says she"—

"Never mind they said, Mr. Smith," broke in Thompson, "just hand over the money you were going to say they sent you." And sure enough the old man produced still another roll from some secret pocket which, when counted, proved to be the exact amount necesssary to pay off the last note when the forty-eight per cent. had been duly taken off.

Thompson pocketed the money, went straight to the Court House, acknowledged the deed, and handed it over with only this remark: "You are the d——st old rascal I ever saw!"

A Husband's Value.

The value of a husband in Kentucky has legally adjudged at eighty-five dollars. To be sure, the husband's name was Gudgell, which may partially account for the low price put on him.—But one would think that even a Gudgell would be worth more than eighty-five dollars.

The way in which this delicate piece of valuation was accomplished was this: Kentucky has a law, passed a few years ago, allowing the widow of a man unlawfully slain by another, the right to sue and collect from the slayer whatever damages, acutual or exemplary, a jury may assess. This, it will be seen is somewhat after the fashion of our "Civil Damage" Temperance law, and is perhaps, due to the same cause. In New York it is almost impossible to convict liquor sellers criminally before a jury; but it was thought that private damages might be collected by women, and, in fact, such damages have actually been collected. In Kentucky juries have an amiable weakness in favor of murderers, (unless they happen to be negroes,) which prevents their sending them to the gallows, but the Legislature seems to have thought that the jurymen's chivilric hearts would be melted by a widow's tears, and that the fear of good heavy "civil damages" might restrain some heroes of the knife and pistol, who would look with justifiable contempt on the nerveless criminal laws of the State.

Thus far the experiment has not been attended with very brilliant success.—The law in question reminds one of the old feudal regulations by which the fine for slaying a man (to be paid to his nearest relative) was definitely fixed according to the rank of the victim, and was the only punishment.

To return to our Gudgell. About a year ago, in one of the interior counties of Kentucky, a wealty citizen named Smoot shot and killed Gudgell. The widow brought suit for damages.—She claimed ten thousand dollars. Now, it will probably be admitted that, considered as the actual value of an ordinary husband, this was extravagant; but then there are such things as "exemplary damages," and besides, lawyers are always careful to put the claims of their clients high enough. After one or two disagreements of jurors the case lately came on for trial again, and has just been decided by a verdict for the plaintiff of eighty-five dollars, with costs of suit.

Now, by this verdict two things are decided. First, that Smoot unlawfully killed Gudzell; otherwise the former would not have been liable for any damages whatever. Second, that the value of Gudgell was eighty-five dollars. There is no account of any other verdict fixing the price of men in that section, and nothing to show that Gudgell was not worth as much as the ordinary Kentucky husband. We are, therefore, justified in assuming the foregoing sum as the legal value of the article in question, at least in the interior counties. Probably in Louisville, where city fashions have created fictitious values, the rates would rule somewhat higher.

We do not dispute that Kentuckians know the value of their compatriots. In fact, considering the obstinacy with which that State has gone Democratic from time immemorial, (that is, ever since the war,) we are strongly inclined to think that eighty-five dollars is a very high price for a Kentuckian. Yet when we remember that only thirteen years ago men were worth $1,000 to $1,500, it does seem strange that they should now be rated at only eighty-five dollars apiece.

Moreover, we have not the slightest doubt that, in a suit for breach of promise, a Kentucky jury which gave any damages at all would never put the price of a lost husband at less than five hundred dollars—in fact, we have read of their rating them much higher. This shows that when a Kentuckian is only a husband in prospective he is considered of some value, but that after his marriage his candid neighbors, acting under oath, are obliged to admit that a hundred dollars would be too much for him, though seventy-five, perhaps, would be too little, and that eighty-five dollars is as near the true figure as care and conscientiousness can fix it. And certainly Kentuckians ought to know what Kentuckians are worth.—N. Y. Times.

How A Teacher Stopped A Train.

On Monday of last week, says the Albany Argus, there was an occurrence on the Harlem Extension Railroad that is worth recounting. About 9 in the morning of that day a serious collision—a collision between a girl and a train of cars—was avoided in a very singular and daring way. The girl is a school teacher, and she was on her way to school. The train was from Chatham, on its way to Rutland. Both met on the trestle-work near Bramard's Strtion. The girl stood still, while the alarmed engineer whistled down brakes, and managed to stop the train only when his engine was within ten feet of the obstruction. The trestle-work is 36 feet high, and bears only one course of ties and only one track. "What do you mean—do you want to be killed?" inquired the engineer. "No," said the girl, "I am going to school." "Well, go back until the train crosses the trestle," said the engineer. "I can't," said the girl; "I'm late," "Step aside, then," and she stepped aside, outside the track and on the edge of the ties. But the space was too narrow; the engine's wheels could not clear her expanded skirts. Her next plan was to sit down, with her legs dangling beneath the ties, but thus the hoops spread all the wider. Provking delay for the engineer, humiliating failure and posture for the school marm, "Hold on," said she, "I'll fix it;" and then, gathering up her limbs and her skirts, she stretched herself at full length upon the outer edge of the ties, seized underneath with one hand the string-piece to which the rail is spiked, and cooly bade the train pass on! In a minute the train passed over the prostrate form without jar or jolt, and the next instant the girl was on her feet, hastening toward her expectant pupils, before whom she was determined to be "on time," though she disarranged a dozen railroad time-tables.

Sergeant Bates has again come to the surface, this time in Chicago. He wants some one to bet that he can't go to England and bring over a British soldier who will carry the Union Jack from the Atlantic to the Pacific, while the indomitable sergeant trots beside him with the "battle flag of freedom." The St. Paul Press cruelly suggests that Bates should shoulder the American emblem of liberty and take a walk into Africa, beginning where Dr. Livingstone left off.

DR. BALLOU, whose name where he is known, is sufficient to fill his office with patients the whole time during his office hours, is stopping for a few days at the Purcell House, parlor 6. We copy the following from the News and Courier, Charleston, S. C.: The Doctor is certainly making some of the most wonderful cures that has ever been known here. J. W. Semken, corner Beaufain and Coming streets, who has had Rheumatism for over six years, is now walking around. We are witnesses in the above case: J. H. Pieper, Capt. C. G. Ducker. He has also cured Wm. Hoffman of Sciatica, N. B. Fields of Bronchitis, Henry Leonard of Neuralgia, and several others of Lung and Throat Diseases whose names may be seen at his office. The Doctor cures all diseases of the Generative Organs, Seminal Weakness, &c. All treatment strictly confidential.

The Doctor invites all classes of Physicians in to see the effects of his remedies. He will remain until he cures any case he contracts to treat, and he cures many cases with one treatment.

THE YOUTH'S

COMPANION

A WEEKLY PAPER FOR

Young People

AND THE FAMILY.

THE COMPANION aims to be a favorite in every family—looked for eagerly by the young folks, and read with interest by the older. Its purpose is to interest while it amuses; to be judicious, practical, sensible: and to have really permanent worth, while it attracts for the hour.

It is handsomely illustrated, and has for contributors some of the most attractive writers in the country. Among these are:

Edward Eggleston, Dr. I. I. Hayes, Prof. Jas. DeMille, Louise C. Moulton, Louisa M. Alcott, "Sophie May," Rebecca H. Davis, C. A. Stephens, C. W. Flanders, Ruth Chesterfield, S. S. Robbins, M. A. Denison.

Its reading is adapted to the old and young, is very varied in its character: sprightly and entertaining. It gives

Stories of Adventure, Stories of Home and School Life,
Letters of Travel, Tales, Poetry.
Editorials upon Current Topics, Selections for Declamation,
Historical Articles, Anecdotes, Puzzles,
Biographical Sketches, Facts and Incidents. Religious Articles,

Politically the POST is

UNSWERVINGLY REPUBLICAN.

THE ADVERTISING RATES of the POST, like its subscription price, are at liberal and at living prices, as an examination of them will show, and it bespeaks a share of public patronage.

THE EVENING POST

is closely identified with the local welfare of the Cape Fear region, and the believers in progress, whether

EDUCATIONAL,
AGRICULTURAL,
MECHANICAL, or will find an enthusiastic ally in THE POST.

THE POST

is opposed to monopolies, but in favor of internal improvements, and a firm believer in the patronage and support of home enterprises and institutions.

THE EVENING POST

is devoted almost exclusively to the prospects of the Cape Fear region. Its columns are always open for the discussion of matters of local interest, that both sides may be understood. It should, therefore, be endorsed and sustained by our citizens of both political parties. Only $5 a year in advance, or fifty cents a month.

Prospectus for 1874—Seventh year

THE ALDINE

An Illustrated Monthly journal, universally admitted to be Handsomest Periodical in the World. A Representative and Champion of American Taste.

Not for Sale in Book or Music Stores

THE ALDINE while issued with all the regularity, has none of the temporary or timely interest characteristic of ordinary periodicals. It is an elegant miscellany of pure, light and graceful literature; and a collection of pictures, the rarest specimens of artistic skill, in black and white. Although each succeeding number affords a fresh pleasure to its friends, the real value and beauty of THE ALDINE will be most appreciated after it has been bound up at the close of the year. While other publications may claim superior cheapness, as compared with rivals of a similar class, THE ALDINE is a unique and original conception—alone and unapproached—absolutely without competition in price or character. The possessor of a complete volume cannot duplicate the quantity of fine paper and engravings in any other shape or number of volumes for ten times its cost; and then, there are the chromos, besides!

ART DEPARTMENT, 1874.

The illustrations of THE ALDINE have won a world-wide reputation, and in the art centres of Europe it is an admitted fact that its wood cuts are examples of the highest perfection ever attained. The common prejudice in favor of "steel plates," is rapidly yielding to a more educated and discriminating taste which recognizes the advantages of superior artistic quality with greater facility of production. The woodcuts of THE ALDIFE possess all the delicacy and elaborate finish of the most costly steel plate, while they afford a better rendering of the artist's original.

To fully realize the wonderful work which THE ALDINE is doing for the cause of art culture in America, it is only necessary to consider the cost to the people of any other decent representations of the productions of great painters.

In addition to designs by the members of the National Academy, and other noted American artists, THE ALDINE will reproduce examples of the best foreign masters, selected with a view to the highest artistic success and greatest general interest. Thus the subscribers to THE ALIENE will at a trifling cost, enjoy in his own home the pleasure and refining influences of true art.

The quarterly tinted plates for 1874 will be by Thos. Moran and J. D. Woodward.

The Christmas issue for 1874 will contain special designs appropriate to the season, by our best artists, and will surpass in attraction any of its predecessors.

PREMIUM FOR 1874.

Every subscriber to THE ALDINE for the year 1874 will receive a pair of chromos. The original pictures were painted in oil for the publishers of THE ALDINE, by Thomas Moran, whose great Colorado picture was purchased by Congress for ten thousand dollars. The subjects were chosen to represent "The East" and "The West." One is a view in the White Mountins New Hampshire the other gives the Cliffs, of Green River, Wyoming Territory. The difference in the nature of the scenes themselves in a pleasing contrast, and affords a good display of the artist's scope and coloring. The chromos are each worked from thirty distinct plates, and are in size (12 x 16) and appearance exact fac-similes of the originals. The presentation of a worthy example of America's greatest landscape painter to the subscribers of THE ALDINE was a bold but peculiarly happy idea, and its successful realization is attested by the following testimonial, over the signature of Mr Moran himself.

NEWARK, N.J., Sept 20th,

MESSRS. JAMES SUTTON & CO.

Gentlemen,—I am delighted with proofs the color of your chromos. They wonderfully successful representation by mechanical process of the original painting.

Very respectfully,

(Signed,) THOS. MORAN.

These chromos are in every sense American. They are by an original American process, with material of American manufacture, from designs of American scenery by an American painter, and presented to subscribers to the first successful American Art Journal. If no better because of all this they will certainly possess an interest no foreign production can inspire, and neither are they any the worse if by reason of peculiar facilities of production they cost the publishers only a trifle, while equal in every respect to other chromos that are sold singly for double the subscription price of THE ALDINE. Persons of taste will prize these pictures for themselves—not for the price they did or did not cost, and will appreciate the enterprise that renders their distribution possible.

If any subscribers should indicate a preference for a figure subject, the publishers will send "Thoughts of Home," a new and beautiful chromo, 14 x 20 inches, representing a little Italian exile whose speaking eyes betray the longings of his heart.

TERMS.

$5 per annum, in advance, with Oil Chromos free.

For 50 Cents Extra, the chromos will be sent, mounted, varnished, and prepaid by mail.

THE ALDINE will, hereafter, be obtainable only by subscription. There will be no reduced or club rate; cash for subscriptions must be sent to the publishers direct, or handed to the local canvasser. Without responsibility to the publishers, except in cases where the certificated is given, bearing the facsimile signature of JAMES SUTTON & Co.

CANVASSERS WANTED.

THE SUN,

—:o:—

WEEKLY, SEMI-WEEKLY, AND DAILY.

THE WEEKLY SUN is too widely known to require any extended recommendation, but the reasons which have already given it fifty thousand subscribers, and which will, we hope, give it many thousands more are briefly as follows,

It is a first rate newspaper. All the news of the day will be found in it, condensed when unimportant, at full length when o moment, and always presented in a clear intelligible, and interesting manner.

It is a first rate family paper, full of entertaining and instructive reading of every kind, but containing nothing that can offend the most delicate and scrupulous taste

It is a first rate story paper. The best tales and romances of current literature are carefully selected and legibly printed in its pages.

It is a first rate agricultural paper. The most fresh and instructive articles on agricultural topics regularly appear in this department.

It is an independent political paper, belonging to no party and wearing no color.—It fights for principle, and for the election of the best men to office. It especially devotes its energies to the exposure of the great corruptions that now weaken and disgrace our country and threaten to undermine republican institutions altogether. It has no fear of knaves, and asks no favors from their supporters.

It reports the fashions for the ladies and the markets for the men, especially the cattle markets, to which it pays particular attention.

Finally, it is the cheapest paper pulished. One dollar a year will secure it for any subscriber. It is not necessary to get up a club in order to have THE WEEKLY SUN at this rate. Any one who sends a single dollar will get the paper for a year.

We have no traveling agents.

THE WEEKLY SUN.—Eight pages, fifty six columns. Only $1 00 a year. No discounts from this rule.

THE SEMI-WEEKLY SUN.—Same size as the Daily Sun. $2 00 a year. A discount of 20 per cent. to clubs of 10 or over.

THE DAILY SUN.—A large four page newspaper of twenty eight columns. Daily circulation over 120,000. All the news for 2 cents. Subscription price 50 cents a month, or $6 00 a year. To clubs of 10 or over, a discount of 20 per cent. Address,

MARSHAL'S OFFICE,

WILMINGTON, N, C., April 22, 1874.

NOTICE.

I WOULD MOST RESPECTFULLY CALL the attention of the citizens to the fact that the warm and sickly season is near at hand, and it becomes my duty to adopt the most stringent sanitary measures at this particular time to preserve the health of the city and prevent the introduction of disease that may originate from foul and unwholesome matter, filth, garbage, trash and refuse matter which has a tendency to create unwholesome and offensive odors. In order to prevent as far as possible the spread of those diseases peculiarly incident to this season of the year I would most respectfully solicit the co-operation of the citizens generally in placing our city in such a sanitary condition as to render it as far as practicable impregnable, at least to those diseases which originate from foul and unwholesome matter. To this end the entire force of the city will be employed in cleansing, draining, cleaning, disinfecting and removing trash, &c., for at least the next fifteen or twenty days. All persons are requested to have the trash, offal, refuse matter, &c., cleaned from their premises and placed upon the streets, whence they will be removed immediately. When it is convenient please use boxes or barrels.

Persons needing disinfectants can have the same free of charge by calling at my office.

The health officers, designated by a yellow rosette, may be notified of any stagnant water standing upon any lot, or damp cellar or anything that would impair the health of the city, and any complaint lodged at this office shall receive prompt attention.

Believing that a proper sanitary condition adopted now, at this early season, will insure a healthy summer I earnestly solicit the aid and co-operation of all the good citizens to accomplish this good end.

Respectfully, &c., GEO W. PRICE, Jr.,
april 28—tf City Marshal.
